TANK IN BIG ICEHOUSE EXPLODES; BLOWS HOLE IN BRICK WALL; 2 HURT

Debris Tumbles Upon Men in Bronx Structure, Who Are Rescued by Policeman.

An explosion last night to the pressure tank in the first floor of the two-story brick fulliting at One Hun- to dred and Eightieth and flevor pirce a, the Brons, occupied by the Common ers' Inc Company, resulted to injuries to William Brotet, twenty-three years old, an oller, of No. 1178 Flast One Hundred and Seventy-eighth Street, the Bronx, and Herman Scritzke, twenty-three, as olier, of No. 303 East One Hundred and Fiftysixth Street, the Bronz. The latter's right arm was broken and both men were severely cut and brussed. They were taken to Lebanon Hospital by Dr. Steinberg.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. When it occurred Patrolinan Dennia of the Westchester Station ran to the ice house, helped the two dared men out of the building and summoned an ambulance. Although the plant is in an isolated section of the Bronx, a large crowd gathered,

The two ollers were the only men in the building when the explosion occurred. Several windows were blown out in the three-story build-ing and a large hole was ripped in the brick wall of the structure. Sev-eral windows in nearby houses were broken by the detonation. The injuries to the two enen were caused by falling bricks.

BIGGEST PUMPKIN HAS CONNECTICUT TALKING

"Fed" on Milk Farmers Think of 100 Pounder, but This Is Denied.

NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 15 .- Considerable attention is being attracted here this week by a huge pumpkin and some white tomatoes exhibited in windows on Main Street. The pumpkin, which weighs just an even hundred pounds and measures 70 inches around, was grown by James Fagan, a molder employed in the stove foundry. Farmer connoisseurs claim it the largest ever grown in the State and declare that it must the State and declare that it must have been "fed" on milk. Fagan and his neighbors insist that no special attention was given it. Last spring a friend gave him a few seeds which he planted in a neglected corner of his garden and it grew—and it grew. It will probably be entered in the Danbury fair next month as a champion.

The tomatoes which are almost a clear white and said to have a re-markably delicate flavor were grown by M. F. Byxbee, a young florist.

MOB ATTACKS CAR CREW WHEN BOY IS KILLED

Mother Tries in Vain to Save Child From Death Under Wneels.

As Mrs. Benjamin Friedman, No 1033 DeKaib Avenue, Brooklyn, was crossing the street near her home this morning a DeKalb Avenue car bore down on her with its bell clanging wildly. She sprang forward in the direction she was going and tried to shove her two-year-old son Harry back out of danger. The child persisted in following his mother and the next instant he was screaming between a front wheel and the fender. For fifteen minutes, until death put him out of his agony, the child's cries aroused the neighborhood, while the mother, in a frenzy, pitted has strength against the weight of while the mother, in a frenzy, pitted her strength against the weight of the car in an effort to rescue him. At the same time Motorman Ed-ward Staats, No. 408 Suydam Street, was up on the front seat of the car, defending himself with his controller bar from the mob of Mrs. Friedman's neighbors who were attacking him. He and Cenductor Edward Harding. No. 29 Lotus Avenue, were rescued by Patrolman Ranst of the Raiph Avenue station. No arrests were made, death being clearly acc. (al.

STEAMSHIP HELD UP EIGHT TIMES ON TRIP

The Experience of the Portland Was Just One Warship After Another.

The American steemer Portland arrived here to-day from Swedish and British ports after having been held up by eight war vessels on her eastward and westward trips. The freighter sailed from San Francisco several months ago with a cargo of paricy, beans and dried fruits consigned to Stockholm and carrying a British consular certificate provid-ing against interference.

up by a British cruiser, taken to sarkwail and four days later discharged a part of her carge at Blyth. The then started for Stockholm, but was held up by German submarines on two occasions. The Germans took part of the cargo.

After discharging the balance of the cargo at Stockholm the Portland sailed for England and was held up by two more German submarines. A cargo of chalk was taken on at Gravesend, but three British des-troyers held up the Portland before troyers held up the Portland she was clear of the war zone.

of the prettiest and quaintest possible. In the picture the blouse and skirt are made of challis and the collar, cuffs and he over-bodice are of taffeta, but you on think of it treated in a great many different ways. The over-hodice and the skirt could be made of one material and the blouse of another to give an entirely different effect, and challis or taffeta or any pretty, childlike muterial of the sort would be desirable, with the blouse of lawn, batlate or handkerchief linen. For still further daintiness the oller and the cuffs could be scalloped. The skirt is made in two pieces, plaited and joined to the biouse. The overbodice is finished quite separately. For the very little children the simplest materials are of course the only desirable ones, but when one reaches the age of six or eight years quite different things are allowed, and for the dressy frock taffets could be used for the skirt and blouse with velvet for the skirt and blouse of the vest washable materials are in domand at all seasons of the year. Rose colored linen would be pretty for the over-bodice and skirt with the blouse of white lawn with the pins appearing in the collar and cuffs, or linen could be used for the entire frock with contrast found only in the whits collar and cuffs finished with scalinged edges. This is a season of nucle opportunity and there is not a design that cannot be varied again and scale that could rent use of material and ity different contrasts. The fall ging-barn are exceedingly attractive.
